

This Week in Council

Candidate Petitions Due; Council Welcomes Ideas

Candidates for the 1953 Homecoming Princess must file their petitions in the Office of the Dean of Student Personnel by Monday at 3 p. m. Petitions for Student Council posts and class officers must be filed by Monday, Oct. 12, at noon.

The all-school election will be held Wednesday, Oct. 21. Five Council posts are open. Seniors will elect a coed to a place on the Council. Freshmen will elect two men and two women to Council jobs.

A president, vice-president and secretary-treasurer will be chosen by each class. The Homecoming Princess will also be elected.

Acting Council chairman Don Chase announced that the first Prexy Party will be held Wednesday, Oct. 14, from 3 to 4 p. m. Presidents of all campus organizations will attend the meeting.

The Council also discussed plans for Homecoming and a possible Migration Day.

Meets Attract Experts to OU

Two conferences will attract visitors to the University in the next few days.

The first of the meetings will be held tomorrow when the Nebraska State Audio-Visual Association will hold its annual fall conference.

Included in the program will be a demonstration on making transparencies by Allan Finstad, educational consultant for the Beseler Company. A report on In-Service training in Nebraska will be given by Mrs. Mary Conner and two new films, "Skippy" and the "3 R's," will be shown.

Membership in the organization is limited to teachers, administrators and directors of audio-visual education throughout the state.

A "Conference-Workshop" for county school superintendents and supervisors will be held Tuesday through Friday.

The workshop, designed especially for those attending the National Conference for County and Rural-Area Superintendents in Omaha, Oct. 11-14, will be conducted by midwest leaders in education.

Miss Olive Berg, rural supervisor of public instruction in South Dakota, and F. B. Decker, Nebraska superintendent of public instruction and OU College of Education faculty, are in charge of the meeting.

Topics to be discussed include the services of a county superintendent and teacher and evaluation of the school program.

Notice

All Public Law 550 veterans who are attending OU and expect a check this month should sign the monthly Certificate of Training in the Registrar's office between October 1 and 5.

* * *

Chairman Anne McConney announced an Oct. 15 deadline for all material for the first issue of "Grain of Sand." Essays, fiction and poetry will be accepted in the literary magazine.

* * *

James H. Hammon of the US General Accounting Office will be in the Placement Office Tuesday to interview accounting students who plan to graduate in 1954.

For further information, contact the Placement Office immediately.

* * *

Physics professor J. G. McMillan has tickets for the Midwest Magicians Show at Central High auditorium next Saturday. Professional and amateur magicians will perform.

* * *

Tryouts for the fall dramatic production will be held next week. Dr. Edwin L. Clark asked all students interested in a part to report to him. The play will be announced in next week's Gateway.

This column of official notices will appear weekly. Students, faculty and staff members wanting a notice in the Friday issue must have their information in the Gateway office not later than 10 a. m.

OU Students To Get Free Medical Help

Medical service which would normally cost OU students several dollars will be given free of charge this month. Tuberculosis chest x-rays will be taken by a TB mobile unit beginning Wednesday. Registration for influenza inoculations will be taken in the Health Office next week.

X-rays will be taken at a rate of one a minute from 9 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. and 1 p. m. to 5 p. m. The unit will be located near the Student Center.

Following the discussion of the ideas in Council meetings, the Council will formulate the facts and formally answer the suggestions by letter to the signees.

The public opinion idea, introduced in last year's Council, is in charge of Don Chase, temporary chairman of the Council.

Suggestion Box

Organizations, students and faculty are going to be given an opportunity to make constructive suggestions to the Student Council.

Effective Monday, a Student Council-sponsored "television" suggestion box will be placed in front of the auditorium on the main floor for all ideas.

Any suggestion of constructive criticism or improvement will be read and discussed at Student Council meetings. The only stipulation the Council makes is that all suggestions must be signed by an individual or individuals.

The public opinion idea, introduced in last year's Council, is in charge of Don Chase, temporary chairman of the Council.

Prof To Head Alums in Year

Harold Poff, '49, is the new president of the OU Alumni Association. The election was held at the group's annual fall meeting last week.

Other new officers are Bob Seitzer, '50, vice-president; Jessie T. Jones, '20, secretary, and Don Plasterer, '41, assistant dean of students, treasurer.

Elected to three-year terms on the Association's Board of Directors were Jim Borland, '52; Dick Holland, '48; Don B. Johnson, '48; Dan Koukol, '49, and Homer Schleih, '27.

Members amended the Constitution to clarify board membership and the permit elections by mail.

Alumni Secretary Tom Townsend pointed out the "tremendous challenge" colleges face in preparing for the record enrollment expected by the 1960's.

The University is striving mightily to meet present and future needs. But it is doing so in the face of high costs and a clamor for lower taxes," Townsend said.

He urged alumni to "keep informed concerning the University's program and plans and to support the University's work."

Auditions for KWOU Staff Lasts Through Wednesday

KWOU, campus radio station, will hold auditions for staff positions Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Dr. Bruce A. Linton, head of the speech department, urges all students interested in radio and television work to try out for positions.

ROTC Changes, Adds Instructors

Two new instructors have been added to the AF-ROTC staff this year.

First Lt. John W. Plantikow is the new assistant commandant of cadets. He replaces Maj. John Burnett, now commandant of cadets.

Capt. Count L. Bower, adjutant for the past two years, is now on Bootstrap, taking credits towards a master degree. His replacement has not yet arrived.

Maj. Robert E. Whaley, former commandant of cadets, is now with the 3516th training squadron at Randolph Air Force Base, Tex.

Students Plan TV Show

"It's Easy To Live" is the title for this year's WOW-TV program produced by advanced radio and television students.

Talent for the 15-minute program will be provided by various organizations active on the Omaha University campus. The show is to be presented every three out of four weeks.

The speech department is also tentatively planning several radio plays and TV dramas.

Bail Visits Capitol

President Milo Bail will attend two education conferences in Washington, D. C., next week.

The Committee on Civilian Higher Education for Military Personnel will meet Wednesday. The annual convention of American Council on Education follows on Thursday and Friday.

President Eisenhower is expected to address the opening session of the Education Council.

Six Lecturers Fill Institute Calendar

The Eighth Annual Institute of World Affairs will open Wednesday, Oct. 14. The six lectures on "Problems and Problem Areas" will feature speakers from all over the world. The lectures will be given every Wednesday in the auditorium.

Hanson W. Baldwin will speak on "U. S. A. — Arsenal for the West" at the first lecture. Mr. Baldwin is military editor for the New York Times and was a Pulitzer Prize winner in 1942.

Speaker for the second lecture on Oct. 21 will be Darrell Randall with the topic, "Africa—Problems and Perspectives." With degrees in economics and international administration, Mr. Randall spent three years in Africa for the Methodist Board of Missions, visiting tension areas all over the continent.

The topic for the third of the series on Oct. 28 will be "Franco Spain," by Dr. Francis McMahon. As a newspaper writer, his reports on Franco Spain in 1946-48 caused the Spanish Government to ask for his withdrawal as a correspondent.

Dr. Philip M. Hauser will conduct the fourth lecture on Nov. 4. He returned this fall from fifteen months in Southeast Asia as statistical expert for the UN Technical Assistance program. His topic: "World Population in Peace and War."

"Latin America, The Argentine of U. S. Way?" is the title of the fifth lecture on Nov. 11. Dr. George I. Blanksten will be the speaker. Political scientist at Northwestern University, he has just returned from a summer visit to South America with the Ford Foundation Technical Commission, assessing the Point Four Program.

The last lecture of the series, "United Nations, World State, or Power Politics?" will be conducted by Dr. Hans Morgenthau on Nov. 18. He is director of the Center for the Study of American Foreign Policy at the University of Chicago.

Professor William T. Utley is director of the Institute.

Eight civic groups are sponsoring the series. They are The Atrusa Club of Omaha, the American Association of University Women, the Federation for Jewish Service, the National Society of Colonial Dames in Nebraska, the Omaha Education Association, the Nebraska Federation of Women's Clubs, Second District, the Omaha Rotary Club and the University of Omaha.

ROTC Announces New Staff Officer

The University AFROTC Cadet Wing staff has been announced. Wing commander of the group will be John R. Haury. Other officers are Frank Schuchart, executive officer and Robert E. Ernst, air adjutant general.

Others are deputy for operations, John Courtright; Deputy for Personnel, Martin J. Klein; Inspector General, Paul E. Fesler; commander of testing group, Donald F. Nelson; deputy commander of testing group, Glen R. Danielson; public information officer, Donald Hopkins; director of officer training, Larry Fargher, and director of NCO training, John Jeter.

New Art Instructor Shows Claywork

Pottery and stoneware works of Jack E. Wright, OU art instructor, are on display in the showcases on third floor and in the bookstore.

The majority of Wright's display pieces are "thrown" on the potter's wheel. Two pieces are formed in molds, and a few punch pots, made by punching hollows and designs out of one piece of clay, are included.

Wright received his Master of Fine Arts degree in ceramics at the New York State College of Ceramics, where he was also a graduate assistant.

The Games the Same

Attendance at Saturday's football game with Morningside showed a marked increase in paid and total attendance.

Athletic Business Manager, Harvey Vogler, reported 330 tickets were sold for the OU-Fort Hays game. Yet 878 people paid to see Saturday's game. More than 1,000 Omaha school youngsters attended each Saturday, but an increase was shown in the number of OU students attending.

Mr. Vogler estimated 250 students saw the opener while 325 attended the second game. Total attendance Saturday was 1,000 more.

What was the reason for the boost?

While the OU team had done well in the first game, Morningside was not expected to be a difficult opponent. There has been no arch-rivalry between the schools to boost attendance.

The most plausible reason comes from outside the University. During the Fort Hays game, Nebraska University was playing at Lincoln. Several hundred Omahans who normally would have come to the OU game went to Lincoln. When the NU team played at Illinois last weekend, those football minded citizens came to the OU stadium for their afternoon's entertainment.

Let's face reality. When it comes time to make football schedules, keep the whereabouts of the Nebraska team in mind. It isn't a matter of yielding to a bigger obstacle as much as it is a matter of sound business sense.

Frosh in Collegiate Spot, But Who Worries About Seniors?

Every year at this time college publications write articles of ridicule, warning, and praise to those big-eared individuals known as freshman. They play up the frosh's plight as he searches frantically for the library or climbs wearily out of an ash can. They urge him to buy locker insurance and praise the amount of enthusiasm he displays at the Saturday football game.

But every year, who is ignored and pushed into the background while these young upstarts claim the collegiate spotlight? None other than the "Big Wheels"—otherwise known as seniors. Those individuals have labored four long years to become the "Top"—and what happens when they finally do attain this position? Nothing! So we submit the following, "Ode to the Senior."

It takes a heap o' workin' to make a senior,
A heap o' tests and writin' and you're sometimes a bit leaner.

Afore ye really 'preciate the things ye can attain,
Afore ye really hunger and thirst for that diploma with your name.
It takes a lot of notes, term papers, and themes,
A lot of tests and speeches and rooting for football teams,
A few dances and parties thrown in for good measure,
And some old souvenirs that fifty years from now you'll really treasure.
A freshie may get all the 'bility and you never a word of praise—
But must 'member, my friend, it takes a heap o' working to make a senior.

Politics, sports, international affairs and freedom of the press were aptly discussed by a visitor at the University last week. The visitor was Bob Considine, veteran reporter for the International News Service.

Considine has been handed some of the choicest assignments by his news service. He was one of three newspapermen who went to Korea with President Eisenhower last year. He has covered White House press conferences, the Rosenberg execution, the World Series and championship boxing bouts.

Truman Vs. Ike
Comparing Truman's and Ike's press conferences, Considine noted that "Truman had a much keener sense of the newspaperman's role. Ike is a general—raised in the Army." Considine said the President has made "a genuine effort to overcome his army point of view."

When asked about his graphic story of the Rosenberg executions, Considine said he "didn't think executions should be covered, but since they are, they should report exactly what happens." Again, he was one of three reporters who witnessed the actual execution. "I'll never cover another one," he commented.

McCarthy Vs. Communism
Speaking of Senator Joe McCarthy, the newsman said he thought the Senator "a little rough sometimes. McCarthy has changed it from an investigating committee to a semi-inquisition." According to Considine, McCarthy is much bigger news in Europe than in the United States. He gets front page billing and "has taken on the appearance of an ogre."

Speaking about freedom of the press, Considine said, "If I had a paper, I'd print both sides to a question in it . . . not only because I feel that way, but because it is commercially sound." He admitted that his position with INS and his Mutual, of Omaha television program give him much "freedom in reporting and commentating."

Considine predicted that Rocky Marciano would retain his heavyweight crown and forecast the "Yankees in three games" for the World Series. "The Dodgers won't show up for the fourth," he commented.

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil
Beclaws He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

"Go jump in the lake," squalled Sheedy's mermaid with baited breath. "You look simply crabby with that messy hair. Better get your hooks into Wildroot Cream-Oil, America's favorite hair tonic. Keeps hair combed with no trace of greasiness. Removes loose, ugly dandruff. Relieves annoying dryness. Contains lanolin. Non-alcoholic. I shall never sea you again until you start using it." Paul grabbed 29¢ and bought Wildroot Cream-Oil. Now he's the crab-apple of her eye. So water you waiting for? Hurry and get a bottle or handy tube at any toilet goods counter. And next time you visit your barber, ask for Wildroot Cream-Oil on your hair. Then you'll be the best catch on campus.

Patrice Munsel says: "When I was a kid, I wanted to be a lady football player. Then I dreamed of another career—whistling! Somebody discovered I had a voice, so I took singing lessons. I worked hard at it—then I won the Metropolitan Opera auditions when I was 17."

Fourth Period Outburst Brings 28-19 OU Victory

Gridders Seek Third Triumph Tonight Against Washburn U.

Three last quarter touchdowns enabled the OU football team to edge Morningside College 28-19 last Saturday on the OU gridiron.

The victory gave the Indians a one-up lead in the 14-game series with the Iowans, and also preserved a five-game winning streak in the OU Stadium.

The Maroons countered twice in the waning minutes of the third period to take a commanding 19-7 lead, but the Red and Black was not to be denied in the last quarter.

With Bill Engelhardt in the driver's seat, the Omahans had no trouble in solving the Morningside defense, especially through the air lanes.

Scrimmaging from the OU 16, Engelhardt filled the air with leather with Jerry Tannahill and Rudy Rotella his favorite targets. A 23-yard aerial to Tannahill brought the Indians out of the hole to their own 42, while a 27-yard flip to Rotella put the ball on the Maroon 30. Don Maseman gathered in another Engelhardt toss on the 14 to set up the score.

Tannahill Scores
Tannahill then fielded another pass from the twelve with eleven minutes left on the clock. Bill Steck kicked the crucial extra point. The Indians then trailed 19-14.

The winning score was registered with a little more than two minutes to play.

After a Morningside punt rolled out on the OU 30, Engelhardt hit Steck on the Maroon 47, and the speedy halfback raced to the Iowans 21. Tony Roth threw the key block that sent him on the way.

Three plunges gave the Indians a first down on the 10 when Jerry Lawson saved the day. As Engelhardt smashed into the line, the pigskin squirted from his fingers, but Lawson was on hand to recover on the Maroon five-yard stripe. Engelhardt traveled right end for the clinching TD, with Steck booting the point.

Big Dale Geise achieved the lineman's dream when he intercepted a Morningside pass, and lumbered 16 yards to ice the game with a minute remaining. Again Steck converted.

The first OU touchdown came in the second period on a drive of 66 yards with Steck's 35-yard jaunt to the Maroon 24 being the big yard gainer. Engelhardt bucked over from the one to score.

The line play of Don Hopkins, Ed Baker and Elwood Mink stood out plus the end work of Maseman, Roth and Rotella. Both Harry Johnson and Lawson came off the bench late in the game and turned in outstanding performances.

By Bob Peck

With two straight victories under their belts, University of Omaha gridders take to the road tonight for their first away game of the season.

Coach Lloyd Cardwell and his "eleven" will invade Topeka, Kans., tonight where they will clash with the Washburn Ichabods.

The Indians will be out to win on two accounts, the first being to even the series between the two clubs in which Washburn holds a one game edge, 4-3. The second is to keep the 1953 Indian slate clean.

The rivalry between the two clubs dates back to 1933 when OU took it on the chin by a 31-0 score. The two teams did not meet again until 1947 and since then they have divided six games.

Last year, Omaha blanked Washburn 19-0 on the Indian gridiron.

Washburn Unbeaten

Washburn will be a tough hurdle for the Indians to clear, as they are fresh after a 21-0 breeze past Emporia last weekend.

It was the second straight triumph for the Ichabods, as they downed Colorado Mines in their opening game the week before.

The records show that Kansas team is a mighty defensive aggregation as they are unscorched upon in their two games this season.

All-American

They are led by Frank Willis, Washburn's nomination for this year's Little All-American team, playing his third year at the center post. Willis stands 6-2, and weighs around 200.

The Ichabods have an all-veteran team, contrasted by Coach Cardwell's rookie dominated line-up. Washburn has several key men who are playing their first year on the Ichabod team, after starring on junior college elevens.

Blocking back Arnold Smith is the only one on the doubtful list after receiving a shoulder separation in last Saturday's victory over Morningside College.

Simon A. Simon, freshman guard, should be ready for action after sitting out last week's game with a broken nose.

Many Top Men

Cardwell could not be sure of his starting lineup until game time as many top flight players are fighting for positions on the starting eleven.

The Indians have been working on new plays this week and are expected to run from both the single wing and the "T" formations tonight.

Approximately 30 players composed the traveling roster. The team left this morning and will stay over night in Topeka, returning tomorrow.

OUWI Starts Fall Activities

Four activities are underway for the nearly 200 new members of OUWI.

First round of the singles tennis tournament must be played off by Monday. Barbara Bowen is chairman.

The Rifle Club will meet at 12:15 today in room 191. Arrangement of schedules and basic information will be given the 85 members.

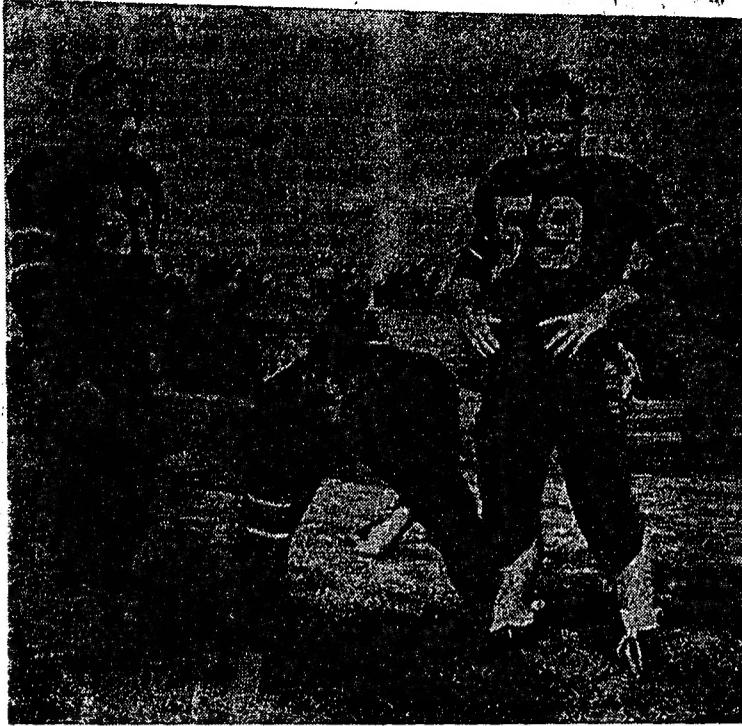

Golf preliminaries must be played off at Elmwood by next Monday. Girls will play in two's or four's. The five finalists will play off by October 12. Ruth Longville is in charge.

Eleven colleges and universities are invited to the Sports Roundup, OU College Playday, next Saturday. The sports meet, sponsored by OUWI, is from 9:30 to 3:00.

Schools invited are Doane, Wesleyan, Nebraska U., Midland, Creighton, Wayne, Morningside, Kearney, Peru, Duchesne and St. Mary's.

Nadine Roesky is chairman of the event. Remaining committees are headed by Marilyn Johnson, foci; Louann Focht, entertainment; Betty Poska, program; Jane Anderson, registration with associates Charlie Cameron and Annine Dinkel.

Everyone may attend by signing in the quonset.

Bill Steck, Ed Baker and Bill Engelhardt practice for tomorrow's encounter. All former North players, they will occupy back, tackle and tail back positions, respectively.

Sig Eps Hold Sing Tonight

Greek social sororities and fraternities will compete at the fourth annual Sig Ep Sing tonight at Hill Haven. Sig Ep loving cups will be awarded to the winners of the men's and women's competition.

Singing will begin at 8 p. m. Jim Shainholtz, chairman of the sing, will lead community singing. Each sorority and fraternity will sing one of its nationally recognized songs in the competition. Judges, a member of each group, will rate the songs on clarity, dynamics, timing and harmony.

The Sig Ep invitation to the fraternities and sororities was a tape recorded song which was played for each group. The invitation was sung by Jim Shainholtz, Ron Peterson, Bob Peck and Bob Edson.

Refreshments will be served by the fraternity after the contest. Frank Pazlar is in charge of refreshments. Dancing to recorded music will follow the refreshments.

Fraternities Take Sixty-nine Pledges In Fall Rush Week

Sixty-nine men pledged five social fraternities on the OU campus. Lambda Chi Alpha, Phi Epsilon Pi, Pi Kappa Alpha, Sigma Phi Epsilon and Theta Chi announced new pledges following fall rushing.
